

Kate Brannan reports in the Sunday Arkansas Gazette that our neighbor town of Camden has a citizen who is a strange sort of fellow.

In this day of the universal typewriter he's one guy who can still write longhand so you can read it.

His name is Calvin Tuberville, and for the last 20 years he's been practicing the flowing strokes that used to make "Spencerian" the predecessor of type. In season he turns out 150 hand-drawn Christmas cards per night, and he does special invitational jobs for corporations — all of which net him good money.

Which is a commentary on the cycle of jobs and wages. A couple of generations ago a good penman was just another "stenographer" while the real money went to one who could manage the newfangled typewriter. Now everyone can use a typewriter, legible handwriting is a lost art — and the man who can really do it is where the typist used to be, at the payoff.

Not, of course, that the art of handwriting is worth intrinsically any more than this ability to write on a typewriter. Whatever the tool men and women use, each generation judges them by what the words say.

Horace Greeley, country printer from the hills of New Hampshire, was in publication work all his life from the age of 15, founded the New York Tribune, became a world-famous figure — yet literally never learned how to "write."

It is said of Greeley that his handwriting was so terrible one certain printer in the composing room of the New York Tribune was especially assigned to set up the daily editorials — because he could either read Greeley's scrawl or divine what he intended to say.

And, as the story goes, one night the veteran printer gave up. He simply couldn't read Greeley's copy. They called Greeley down to the office — and the editor, having forgotten what he had written, couldn't read it either — and had to do a new editorial.

Today we have typewriters to remedy handwriting, but humanity is always overcoming one trouble just in time to discover a new one.

Along with typewriters come dictation and secretaries. The Great Man dictates — and it's up to the Secretary to put in the Spelling, the Punctuation, and the Grammar.

Ever get a letter from some business or professional friend when his secretary's on vacation? You're apt to find its text stripped of all three — Spelling, Punctuation, and Grammar.

The Greeley ghost — in one form or another — is forever with us.

Kincannon and his wife were taken to a Little Rock hospital where it was reported he has a fractured arm and other injuries, and Mrs. Kincannon fractures of the leg, arm, vertebra and internal injuries.

At a Morrilton hospital, Miss Underwood was reported to have a fractured leg and chin, broken nose and possible internal injuries, Merryman possible internal injuries, and Allen cuts and bruises.

Court Outlaws Segregation in Dining Cars

By a 8-0 vote the high tribunal declared such segregation violates a section of the interstate commerce act which prohibits "any undue or unreasonable prejudice" to any person using the railroads.

Justice Burton wrote the court's opinion. Justice Clark took no part. Those who voted with Burton are Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Black, Reed, Frankfurter, Douglas, Jackson and Minton.

The court was expected to rule on two other segregation cases—perhaps later in the day. They involve segregation by state universities.

The dining car decision was on an appeal by Elmer W. Henderson, a Washington Negro. While serving as a field representative of the President's committee on fair employment practices in 1942 he made a railroad trip to Birmingham. Henderson protested that he was unable to get a meal on a Southern railway company diner.

Southern railroads later adopted a policy of setting aside a table or two for Negroes in dining cars. These tables are separated from others in the cars by partitions or pressed his fight against any segregation. He is now a director of the American Council of Human Rights.

The new dining car policy was approved by the interstate commerce commission. When Henderson took his fight to the Supreme court, the commission defended its action, but the justice department opposed it.

Anti-Leopold Group Loses in Belgium

Brussels, Belgium, June 5 (AP)—The Social Christian party, victorious in yesterday's parliamentary elections, embarked today on a program to bring exiled King Leopold III back to the throne. Enthusiastic party leaders predicted this will be accomplished by July 1 but leaders of the anti-Leopold opposition were not so sure.

The Social Christians, predominantly a Catholic party, won 17 seats in the lower house against 105 for the combined anti-Leopold forces of Socialists, Liberals and Communists. Ministry of the Interior officials said the Social Christians are sure to get control of the senate too. By law, only a majority of both houses sitting in joint session can end the regency of Prince Charles, Leopold's brother.

In yesterday's balloting the Social Christians won 54 of the 106 senate seats at stake. Ministry of interior officials said the party would get a minimum of 25 of the seats which will be chosen by provincial councillors and at least 11 of the seats while the senators fill themselves. This would give pro-Leopold partisans at least 90 of the senate's 175 seats, or 197 votes to 190 in a joint session.

Social Christian strategy calls for formation of a government which can win a vote of confidence in both houses when they convene June 20. Then the senate and house would be summoned into joint session to end the regency and return Leopold to the throne.

Social Christians were reported planning to form a new government immediately with the premiership going to Jean Duvieux, present minister of economic affairs and known as a moderate in the party ranks.

Leopold reigned in exile after Hitler's defeat because of unpopularity over two issues: his quick surrender to the Germans in 1940 and his marriage to a commoner during postwar exile in Switzerland. In his absence, Leopold's brother Charles has ruled as prince regent.

Leopold and his Social Christian supporters had hoped for an overwhelming victory to demonstrate that he was king of all the Belgians. His opponents, led by Socialist ex-premier Paul-Henri Spaak, had argued that he could not rule if only half the population wanted him.

BURNS FATAL

Fayetteville, June 5 (AP)—A 74-year-old Madison county woman died today in a Prairie Grove hospital of burns which she suffered yesterday when an oil stove exploded and destroyed her home.

She was Mrs. Jack Hamilton of near Huntsville, Ark. J. D. Haynes, a son-in-law, was severely burned when he attempted to pull the elderly woman from the flames. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Ex Convict Gets 10 Years for Kidnaping

Sherman, Tex., June 5 (AP)—A former Texas convict has been sentenced to 10 years in a federal prison for an Arkansas kidnaping. Hubert McClelland waived grand jury indictment and pleaded guilty before federal district Judge Randolph Bryant here Saturday. The judge fixed the sentence.

McClelland was accused of abducting Otis Swicegood of Magnolia, Ark., at gunpoint May 24 after Swicegood picked up McClelland in his automobile.

McClelland, Swicegood said, forced him to drive from Magnolia to Texarkana, Tex. There Swicegood said he deliberately drove his automobile into another to foil the kidnaping.

Blood Flecked Auto Only Clue to Murder

Memphis, Tenn., June 5 (UP)—A blood-flecked automobile was the only clue police had today to the lover's lane slaying of a 50-year-old Memphis clothing salesman.

The car, stolen from Ray Roberts after he was killed in a lonely West Memphis, Ark., spot Friday night, was found early yesterday, abandoned at the Memphis Municipal airport.

Roberts' body was found Saturday morning, sprawled in the mud of an old dog racing track near West Memphis. He had been shot in the back four times—twice in the head and twice in the right shoulder.

His blizzard and 1947 Chrysler were missing, leading Arkansas and Memphis officers to believe that robbery was the motive for the killing. However, other valuables were not touched.

Police believe Roberts was murdered about 11:30 Friday night. Friends reported that he was seen alone in downtown Memphis as late as 10:45 that night. His wristwatch stopped at 11:50 p. m.

The missing automobile, evidently driven from the death scene by the slayer, was spotted at the local airport by S. J. Garner, 19, of Memphis.

Garner said he noticed the car because it was "an unusual type," and a relative with him had been discussing automobiles.

"I remarked to my wife that it had a license number near that of the man murdered the night before," Garner said. "I thought the correct number was 2-T 964, but my wife had seen the number in the newspaper and said it was 2-D 964."

"When we checked the car again, we saw it was the real thing and went to a nearby service station and called police."

Although the car was found at the airport, Sheriff Cecil Goodwin of Crittenden county, Ark., said he did not believe the slayer had gone off on an airplane.

"He is not on a long trip, as he would want officers to believe," Goodwin said. "Parking the auto at the airport lot was a logical place for the killer to put it. There it would be among other autos and more difficult to spot. He is still in the Memphis area."

Typical June Weather Prevails Says Bureau

By The Associated Press

It was mostly fair throughout the country except for a few showers in South Carolina and thundershowers in central Texas.

The temperature was warm in the Gulf states and the far southwest, but was moderate in most other sections. The coolest weather was in the northeastern states, except for elevated areas in the Rocky mountains.

Mostly fair weather was predicted for today, tonight and Tuesday in the north central states, except scattered showers in the Lake Superior region today and in the upper Mississippi valley Tuesday.

Elsewhere good weather also will continue in most sections. Local showers are forecast today, tonight or tomorrow in Florida and Texas, with a few local showers and also in the northern plains and central Rockies.

Trooper Hit by Auto During Road Check

Grady, June 5 (AP)—An Arkansas state trooper, checking cars at a roadblock, was injured seriously when he was struck by an automobile near here early yesterday.

DeLong and two deputy sheriffs had stopped an automobile for questioning of the occupants in an investigation of the slaying of Ray S. Roberts, 50, of Memphis, at West Memphis, Ark., early Saturday.

Urges Industry to Slash Rate of Accidents

Washington, June 5 (AP)—President Truman urged the nation today to cut sharply its industrial accident rate so its full resources can be used to meet the "threat of totalitarianism."

The President used the platform of his conference on industrial safety as a vehicle for a fresh plea for world freedom.

In an address prepared for the group's opening session at the labor department auditorium, Mr. Truman said some people would have the United States draw back in its shell while the "totalitarian tide rolls over the world."

"Others, at the opposite extreme," he said, "cry hysterically for us to turn ourselves into an armed camp overnight—without regard to what happens to the rest of our national life. Neither of these courses will meet the problem."

What is called for is a program that will create the greatest, possible national strength—civilian and military combined—over a period of years.

"This nation's voice in the world can never be any stronger than our national economy and the will of the people to defend their way of life."

"That is why it is so important that we press forward with programs to increase our productive capacity and improve our standard of living. That is why it is more important than ever for us to prevent the losses that result from industrial accidents. We cannot afford wasted resources or wasted lives."

The President said that in 1949 the number killed in industrial accidents was 15,000 equal to the population of the city of Plymouth, Durbam, N. C., and 1,870,000 were injured, as many as the population of Oregon.

Court Upholds Ruling on Cab Operator

Little Rock, June 5 (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme court today upheld a Union Chancery court decision that Otis Hughes legally can operate a taxi-cab company in El Dorado. R. A. Carr, representing the Yellow Cab Co., sought to have Hughes' permit cancelled on ground that it was not approved properly by the city council.

In another El Dorado case, the high court reversed a union chancery court decision that building contractor W. M. Holder awarding the motor firm $1,500 in construction of a garage building for the Justiss Motor Co.

The supreme court instructed the chancery court to enter a decree awarding 4,563 from drainage district damages from Holder.

The supreme court also said that S. L. Gladish and others of near Osceola, were entitled to collect the unpaid slaying of a Memphis man at West Memphis—of at least two suicides.

Discovery of a Simple Little Truth About the Ladies Is a Pot of Gold for Leo

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Many women love to yell, but modern civilization hasn't offered them much of a chance.

The discovery of this simple little truth about the ladies is going to make Leo A. Selter a nice big pot of gold. He has given them something to yell at.

Leo, who in 48 years has promoted things ranging from theater to hockey and walkathon contests, is the "Mr. Big" of the roller derby.

"Seventy percent of our fans are women," said Leo, whose various roller derbies this year will probably gross more than $7,000,000. Just what is a roller derby? Most Americans haven't yet seen one, and therefore aren't sure. And many of those who have seen one aren't sure either.

It was the elements of a track meet on roller skates, with both men and women teams, and also the more homicidal aspects of wrestling exhibitions and a good, old-fashioned hair-pulling between fishwives.

Whatever it is, it drives the ladies noisily wacky. Teen-age bobby sockers and staid old grandmothers whoop for blood when the racing feminine skaters tangle and maul and spill each other on the skin-shredding track.

The roller derby is the only body contact sport today a woman can go to and get personal release," said Leo, who is something of a philosopher.

"She can't see herself as a boxer or a football player, but she can picture herself as one of the woman skaters. And so it is an outlet for her. She gets rid of her own aggressive impulses in the excitement of watching the derby. "That's a darn healthy thing for

MacArthur's Foes Rebuked by Jap Voters

Tokyo, June 5 (AP)—Japan's voters, exercising their war born governmental voice, apparently rebuked legislators who joined the April revolt against Gen. Douglas MacArthur in yesterday's election.

Incomplete returns showed they gave only sparing support in the house of councilors' election to the dominant Green Wind society which openly bucked MacArthur's headquarters on a tax and reform bill.

This verdict and a continued anti-communist trend were the outstanding factors after three fourths of the 132 seats at stake were decided.

The Green Wind society won only seven seats. Twenty nine seats of its 71 plurality in the chamber were at stake.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Conservative Liberal party and the Social Democrats continued to make a one sided race for dominance.

The Liberals had 39 of the 98 seats already decided. The Socialists who showed the most surprising surge of influence had won 29. Thirteen independents, two farm co-operatives and one farmer laborite were elected. No communists have been successful so far. The Democratic party had only seven victories.

These results gave the Liberals a gain of two seats over those they had at stake in the campaign. The Socialists already had picked up a net increase of 12 seats.

Part of the Socialists vote was interpreted as potential Communist ballots diverted to this less aggressive party in protest against Red violence on Memorial day.

The picture still was unclear on the broad international issues of a peace treaty and American bases. Only 26 of the seats decided were from the nation-wide vote.

The communist opposed Tokyo public works referendum appeared sure of approval. More than 419,000 voted for the project and 254,000 opposed it.

Leaders Fight to Save Once Rich Valley

Seranton, Pa., June 5 (AP)—Civic leaders called on the 300,000 residents of the Lackawanna valley today for "total mobilization" to keep this once wealthy region from economic collapse.

Population has been decreasing steadily in Seranton and the surrounding Lackawanna valley as more and more miners have been thrown out of work.

A symbol of the optimism of the leaders in the mobilization drive, the campaign itself is known as "LIFE." The letters stand for Lackawanna Industrial Fund enterprise.

Co-chairman of the LIFE campaign are Frank C. Walker, former postmaster general, and Ralph H. Weeks, former president of the International Union of Coal and Iron Workers. They are leading a drive to raise $2,000,000.

The money is to be used to lure new industries into Seranton. And with the new industries, Weeks and Walker hope, will come more jobs and more residents.

"Lackawanna county is on the threshold of a new era," Weeks said.

But, he warned: "If we do not reach our goal, we can expect to face a very unpleasant task in the form of mounting unemployment rolls and diminishing business activity."

A community challenge confronts each one of us. Our answer, the answer of labor, the industrialists, the professions, the businessmen and every person in the county with earned income, is total mobilization in support of the LIFE campaign.

A huge rally at the Masonic Temple Wednesday night will serve as the kickoff for the LIFE campaign. Weeks said the drive won't end until the $2,000,000 is raised.

More Militant Socialist Party Likely

The delegates to the meeting, which ended Sunday, picked a new executive committee pledged to implementing the Socialist cause.

In so doing, they repudiated the course advocated by Norman Thomas, their six-time candidate for President. He wished to keep the party primarily an educational organization at this time.

14 Narrowly Escape in Bus Wreck

Dallas, Tex., June 5 (UP)—Fourteen persons narrowly missed death today when a Continental Trailways bus crashed into an underpass abutment and burned.

Two of the 14 passengers were hospitalized.

Bus driver Jack Stevenson, 30, of Irving, Tex., said the 37-passenger bus skidded on wet pavement and swung into the abutment of a triple underpass leading out of Dallas westward toward Fort Worth.

The bus burst into flames as the gasoline tank exploded, Stevenson said.

The bus and all of the baggage stored in its luggage compartments were destroyed.

Congress Told Arming Europe Way to Security

"The Soviets have roadblocked every other avenue," Secretary of Defense Johnson testified before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees.

The program is a "vital immediate step" toward world peace, Secretary of State Acheson told the house foreign affairs committee simultaneously.

Both cabinet officers testified in support of President Truman's call for a $1,222,500,000 authorization to bolster the defense of countries opposing communism.

Their appearance at the capital came on the heels of a statement from Senator Byrd (D-Va.) who called for an "impenetrable national defense" for America itself and described the foreign arms program as a waste of money.

"I believe in an impenetrable defense here at home and will work for it, but I don't believe we can arm half the world as a permanent peace-time proposition," the Virginia senator said.

"I think we are wasting money with this program—money that might better be spent perfecting our own military forces, for it is those forces which will have to save us and the Western world, if Russia attacks."

Byrd alluded to the statement last week by Secretary of State Acheson that the foreign arms program may cost more, and not less, as time goes on.

Acheson seemed likely to face some additional questioning on that score in a schedule appearance before the house foreign affairs committee.

At the same time, Secretary of Defense Johnson was due to appear before the combined senate armed services and foreign relations committees. Some members had questions to ask about the possibility of fitting Western Germany into the anti-communist defenses.

Desperado and Girl Friend Sought

Shelby, N. C., June 5 (AP)—A heavily-armed cookeyed man and his scar-faced, wigged wife were sought today in the mountains of North Carolina. Their pal was arrested in a pre-dawn chase at Spartanburg, S. C.

They had been sought since last Thursday when they took a Tennessee highway patrol car since then, the FBI said, they had stolen several cars and a truck.

FBI Agent Charles Brown said the couple are Carl Baskin Hensley, 34, of Spartanburg, and Martha Louise Hill Hensley, about 35. Both have FBI records. Police at Spartanburg captured Edward Clyde McAllister. He was in a truck, following the Hensley car.

Detective Chief E. I. Hildebrand of Atlanta said earlier that the woman was believed to be McAllister's wife. But the FBI said it had definitely established she is Mrs. Hensley.

McAllister and Parker were released from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta last April. Detective Chief E. I. Hildebrand of Atlanta said.

The chase began then when Tennessee Highway Patrolman Lt. Danny Gavilan stopped their car to investigate a report they were driving while drunk.

NAMED ACTING JUDGE Little Rock, June 5 (AP)—Governor McMath today appointed J. Wendell Henry, a Conway attorney, as acting chancellor of the ninth chancery district, for a period of 30 days.

He will serve in the absence of Chancellor J. B. Ward, Russellville because of illness.

Farm Price Support Faces Senate Attack

At issue was a house-passed bill adding another $2,000,000 to the present $4,850,000 used to support farm crops up to a certain price levels.

Senators Williams (R-Del.) and Ives (R-NY) lined up as leaders of the assault on the present price support program, with two main courses of action:

1. They question the need for the additional funds in view of widespread reports of short crops this year.

2. They are asking that the system of pegging support prices at a per cent of parity (a figure calculated as fair to both buyer and seller) be dropped in favor of a flexible, lower system of price supports.

Williams and Ives were coming upon help from other lawmakers who represent populous farm states and get many complaints about high food costs from consumers.

Senator Ollender (D-La.) who will act as floor manager for the price program, was not worried.

"I'm pretty confident the senate will approve this by a wide margin," he told a reporter. "Unless it does there may be no funds for supporting cotton, wheat, corn and rice crops this year."

"When cotton, wheat and corn are involved a lot of senators are interested," Ollender said. "These same things have been before the senate many times and always been beaten down."

Volcano Continues Eruption

Honolulu, June 5 (AP)—Mauna Loa, a mountain of volcanic ash, continues its eruption of the century, spewing a lava flow toward a lodge area that endangered 36 homes.

Police at Kona, a village on the big island of Hawaii, said residents of the endangered area had been evacuated. The lava began about midnight and reached breakneck speed toward the sea.

The lava's path transcends the southwest slope where the second and third flows of last week tumbled into the Pacific. Police said it endangered Ohia lodge and four five houses clustered around the lodge, and the village of Opihi which consists of about 3 houses.

Residents of the village were evacuated Thursday and Friday. The lava was expected to reach the sea in a short time.

Foreman Ernest Morton of the huku ranch said the lava flow seemed to be dying. Two Coast Guard stations were stationed to watch it tonight.

(The island of Hawaii is the home of the United States' second largest ranch—the Parker ranch, which is slightly smaller than Texas' huge King ranch.)

The new lava stream came down the southeast flank, threatening buildings on Kahuku ranch, the villages of Kaula, Naeahi, Waiohoni. These are located southeast Hawaii Island, about 2 miles southeast of Honolulu on the island of Oahu.

The Brownie Troop under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Lehman and Mrs. Graydon Anthony, will meet this week due to Vacation Bible school. The date of the meeting will be announced later.

Marion Frances Mouser, Kenneth McRae, 111, Wed in Methodist Church

Saturday at four-thirty in the afternoon in the Methodist church, the Reverend J. M. Hamilton heard the marriage vows of Miss Marion Frances Mouser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Nathan Mouser, and Kenneth Gilbert McRae, 111, son of Mrs. John David Barlow of this city, and Kenneth Gilbert McRae, Jr. of Houston, Tex.

The church was beautifully decorated with a heavy background of magnolia foliage used as the central arrangement, and standards of magnolia foliage flanked this arrangement. Wrought iron baskets of magnolia blossoms marked the place where the single ring ceremony was read. Lighted cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra completed the bridal setting. The pews were marked with single magnolia blossoms.

Luther Hollamon, Jr., organist, and Mrs. Dick Watkins, soloist, provided the nuptial music. The organ music included "Sanctus," Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria," "To a Wild Rose," "Cantilene Nuptiale," and "Traumerei," while guests were being seated by Walter E. Daniels, Jr. of Osceola, Charles Luther Wildy, Etowah, Ark.; A. D. Brannon, Jr., and Neil Edward Crow of Little Rock.

Following the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Walter E. Daniels, and Charles Luther Wildy, as Mr. Hollamon played Liszt's "The Love That Linketh Soul to Soul." Mrs. Watkins sang "Calms as The Night" and "O Perfect Love." Clair de Lune was softly played during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used as processional and recessional.

The Bride Wore White

A gown of white Swiss imported embroidered organza was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with an Elizabethan portrait neckline and a wide flange collar extending down the very brief sleeves and made of the embroidered design. The extremely full ankle-length skirt was edged with a scalloped and floral embroidered motif. She wore white opera pumps, and her mitts were of the embroidered organza design. Her veil fell to her shoulders in layered circles from a small halo brim of white organza.

She carried a bouquet of gardenias surrounded by lilies of the valley. Sister's Only Attendant

Mrs. Buford Poe of Fort Smith, was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a petal pink gown of imported organza fashioned with a soft collar and cap sleeves. The buttoned bodice extended below the waist line which was marked with a narrow organza belt. The very full skirt with a wide hem fell to her insteps. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

F. B. Ward, Jr. attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Barlow, mother of the bridegroom, chose a gray silk shantung two-piece dress with navy and white doekskin gloves. Her corsage was gardenias. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Kenneth Gilbert McRae, wore a pink linen dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Reception Follows

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Barlow hotel. Greeting guests at the door were Mrs. Robert M. Wilson, and Mrs. Finley Ward. Dispensing hospitality in the lobby were Mrs. Lolyd Spencer, and Mrs. E. M. McWilliams. Mrs. R. M. LaGrone, Jr. introduced them to the receiving line which included Mrs. Rufus Nathan Mouser, Mrs. John David Barlow, the bride couple, and Mrs. Poe.

The mantel in the reception room was banked with magnolia foliage. The brides table was covered with a white organza cloth with lace inserts, and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Gardenias encircled the base of the wedding cake. At each corner of the table, were prisms crystal epergne's with floating gardenias, and lighted tapers.

Mrs. Charles Wilson invited guests from the receiving line to the bride's book where Miss Betty Robins registered them. Mrs. A. L. Tallett, of Ozan, aunt of the bride, invited them to the brides table.

Mrs. Kenneth Gilbert McRae, grandmother of the bridegroom, presided at the cake and was assisted by Mrs. Taylor Stuart of Hot Springs, aunt of the bridegroom. Punch was served from a side table by Mrs. S. L. Reed, and Mrs. S. J. Beauchamp, Jr. of Little Rock, aunts of the bridegroom.

Assisting in serving were Miss Mary Roy Moses, Miss Barbara LaGrone, Miss Carolyn Meek of Erdley, Miss Colene Beauchamp of Little Rock, Mrs. F. B. Ward, Jr., Mrs. Neil Edward Crow, Miss Gertrude Clark White of Prescott, and Mrs. W. E. Daniels, Jr. of Osceola.

Frisch Leading Candidate for Manager of Year

Associated Press Sports Writer

How come? Well, when Frisch took his Chicago Cubs to Catalina Island for conditioning last February, he announced he planned to rebuild his club with youth. Of the 39 men in camp, 20 were kids up for their first real chance in the majors.

The Cubs broke away from the barrier fast and today, after seven weeks of competition are the surprise of the league. They're in fifth place with a better than 50 rating and are only four games behind the leaders.

Who's leading the team? Take a look: Hank Edwards is the club's batting leader with .368. He's 31 years old. Hank Sauer is the league's runs-batted-in pacesetter, with 36. He's also 31. Andy Paikoff is tops in home runs with eight. He's 29. And then there's 33-year-old Phil Cavaretta, who is hitting .328 and doing a grand job at first base in his 17th big league season.

On the pitching side, Johnny Schmit, Dutch Miller and Walt Dubiel, all past 20, have won 10 games among them, or more than half of the team's total of 19.

And the youngsters? Well, there are only six left: Outside of Bob Borkowski, who hasn't played much, not one is hitting .300.

Edwards, Cavaretta, Sauer and Paikoff all had a hand in yesterday's 13-8 triumph over Brooklyn that dropped the Dodgers into a first place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards gained a full game by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-2.

Trays Looking Better, Split Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

The Southern association is about $100,000 richer today, but it's all centered at New Orleans.

The Pels have been optioned to the pitcher Bob Chenes, the hurler Pittsburgh bought for that amount before the 1948 season.

The Southern league would appear to be loaded with good pitchers. Judging from Sunday's Lookouts got the most safeties of the day—eight—in the opener with the Pels and won, 2-0. In the second, both teams got five hits, but the Lookouts made their good for as many runs and a 5-1 victory.

Nashville won a pair from Mobile, 5-2; and 3-2, in a battle of home runs. Memphis' Chicks and the pace-setting Atlanta Crackers divided a twin bill. The Chicks copped the curtain raiser, 5-2, and Atlanta won the finale, 2-1. Birmingham also came back to take the second game of a doubleheader with Little Rock, 2-1, after dropping the opener 4-1.

Little Rock's Travelers ended a four game losing streak with a three-run outburst in the sixth inning of the first game. Pat Haggerty's triple was the big blow. Ralph Atkins added another tally with a homer in the eighth. The Barons couldn't get to newcomer Art McConnell whose four hitter showed he was nearing the form that made him a 17-game winner in 1949.

Baron Hurler Ray Yochim won his own game with a homerun in the extra eighth inning of the nightcap. Little Rock's Milo Johnson was within one out of a 1-0 shut-out in the seventh when Norm Zauchin drilled one out of the park and tied the score. Then Yochim took matters in his own hands. Verne Williamson, the Pels recent acquisition from Chattanooga, will face the Barons tonight.
